Reference for employment

(Employed Nov '13 - Nov '14, freelance Writer/ Director/ Producer's Assistant)

Isla is quite possibly the most dedicated and enthusiastic person I've had the pleasure of working with across various roles in film production.

Her work is thoughtful, calculated and creatively stunning. Her writing is inspirational and her work as my 1st AD is at once organised, concise and extremely supportive.

Isla works harder to learn, develop and discover her craft than many people I've worked with over the years, a true asset to any production team.

On top of this she is a genuine, kind and brilliant person to be around, something that can be overlooked but I value hugely in a work environment such as ours.

Character reference

(Employed Jun - Jul '10, Education Facilitator)

I have worked with Isla Ure several times over the years in both theatre and film, and have always found her to be honest, committed and trustworthy in all aspects of her work and social life.

Isla is universally liked by those that we have worked with, no doubt due to her unwaveringly open and positive attitude. Alongside being an incredible listener and team player, she wins the respect of others by working hard and always being a notable contributor with ideas. When shooting, Isla will be the first person on set and the last to leave and will do it all with a smile. You can be assured that if a volunteer is needed for any task, Isla's hand will be the first to be raised.

One of Isla's characteristics which I most admire is her desire to always be learning and to then apply those skills to her own projects. She is incredibly proactive, both in her work and charitable ventures, always being led by a deep and genuine care for other people.

In the 10 years that I have known Isla, I have been in awe of her resilience, passion and generosity towards others. I would recommend her assistance to anyone, as I am yet to find someone that has bad words to say about her.
